Wednesday, July 10. 1706.

From the Paris Gazette, dated July 10.

Rome, June 15.

THE Sunday of the Octave of the Holy Sacrament, the Procession to the Church of St. Peters from that of St. Lewis belonging to the French Nation was perform'd with great Solemnity. The Cardinal del Giudice and the Cardinal de la Tremoille assisted at it, accompanied by a great Number of Persons of Quality that are well affected to the 2 Crowns; The Cardinal de la Tremoille treated them afterwards magnificently at Dinner. The Count de Caunitz Auditor of the Rota for Germany, and who has the Management of the Emperor's Affairs, did not cause the Procession from the Church dell' Anima belonging to the German Nation to be perform'd as usual, knowing most of the Cardinals of the new Promotion would not have assisted at it.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 16.

Ausburg, July 8. The Landgrave and the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel arriv'd here Yesterday, to give necessary Orders to their Troops that are marching for Italy. To morrow or next Day his Highness the Landgrave will set out for Cassel, and the Hereditary Prince for the Imperial Army in Lombardy. The Letters from Inspruck say Advice was come thither from Italy that the Imperialists had obtain'd an Advantage over the French.

The said Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel, (whom the States General of the United Provinces lately made General of their Horse) is to Command in Lombardy not only his Father's Troops, but likewise all those in Dutch Pay that serve under Prince Eugene.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 16.

From the Camp at Linckenheim, July 9. Prince Lewis of Baden is at present at Raftad. The Enemy's Army is at last retir'd into the Lines of Lauterbourg and Weissenbourg, and have abandon'd all their Posts along the Rhine quite to Hagenbach. Their Army consists still of 35 Battallions and 64 Squadrons. Our Army [which consists of 42 Battallions and 60 Squadrons, good Troops,] is preparing to pass the Rhine, and offer Battle to the Enemy.

Letters of the 11th of July from the Upper Rhine, advise, that the Troops of Mentz were to put themselves on the March the 13th to joyn the Imperial Army at Linckenheim, where fresh Troops arriv'd from time to time. The Prince of Baden is at Raftad, where a Conference was appointed between his Highness, Count Schlick Commissary General, the Count of Stadian on the Part of the Elector of Menz, Count Gronsfelt, and some other General Officers. The Troops of Hesse which arriv'd the 7th and 8th of July at Ausburg, are gone on for Italy, where 'tis reckon'd they will arrive the 24th.

An Ordinance of the King of France, promising Pardon to all Troopers, Dragoons, and Foot Soldiers that have deserted his Majesty's Troops since the 1st of July 1706.

HIS Majesty being inform'd, that there are in the Enemy's Army several Troopers, Dragoons and Foot Soldiers, Natives of France, that have deserted his Troops, and others who abscond in the Provinces of his Kingdom, who are willing to return into his Service were they assur'd of Pardon; and considering that his Design being to strengthen his Armies, nothing would conduce more to the augmenting of them, than to abate, at this Time, in their Favour, of the Rigour of his Ordinances; his Majesty has remitted, forgiven, and pardon'd, remits, forgives, and pardons, the Crime of Desertion committed to this Day, by the Troopers, Dragoons, and Foot Soldiers, Natives of France, who by the first Day of September next shall return to take on in the Regiments of Foot, Horse or Dragoons, that are employ'd in his Armies; and serve in them 4 Years successively, on which Condition they shall not be prosecuted or molested by any Person whatsoever because of their Desertion; provided they produce a Certificate as well from the Collonel or commanding Officer of the Regiment or Battallion they serv'd in, as from the Commissary of War keeping the Muster Rolls of the same, specifying at what Time they List'd, and how long they serv'd; and this shall not be drawn into Consequence; his Majesty declaring that this Amnesty is the last he will grant to Deserters from his Troops; accordingly his Intention is, that the said 1st of September being past, those of the said Deserters who shall not have taken on in his Troops, shall be prosecuted according to the Rigour of his Ordinances, which for the future he will have regularly executed, even with regard to those who having been seiz'd for the said Crime shall have been condemn'd before the Publication of these Presents, by which his Majesty does not intend to hinder the Execution of the Sentences that shall have been pronounc'd against them; his Will being only to pardon those who having been seiz'd have not yet been condemn'd for deserting, and that they be releas'd on Condition they return to the Troops or Companies of the Regiments to which they belong, to continue to serve in them. His Majesty's Intention is likewise, that those who have been condemn'd for Contumacy, shall have the Benefit of the present Amnesty, and be discharg'd from the Sentences pronounc'd against them for Contumacy, if within the Time above prescrib'd, they take on in the Troops of his Armies, to serve in them 4 Years without absenting themselves, on Pain of losing the Benefit of this present Pardon. His Majesty commands and orders his Governours, and Lieutenant Generals, in his Provinces and Armies, and Intendants in the same, the Governours of particular Towns and Places, the Directors and Inspectors General neral of his Troops, the Commissaries of War, and all his other Officers whom it may concern, to see to the due Execution of these Presents, which 'tis his Majesty's Will shall be publish'd at the Head of his Troops, and affix'd on his Frontiers, and in all other Places necessary, to the end that none may pretend Cause of Ignorance. Done at Marli the 1st of June 1706.

Sign'd LOUIS,
and lower Chamillard.

From on Board the Milford in the Downes, July 8.
Yesterday Morning early a Hoy came into the Downes from Margate Road, and the Men acquainted the Captain of the Squirrel, that a French Privateer had taken and ransom'd her, and was then on the Back of the Sand; upon which (tho' he was Commadore) he slipt and stood out of the S. Sand head. About 10 in the Morning we saw 3 Sail on the Back of the Goodwin, standing South West, and presently they hem'd in the Squirrel, we saw several Broad sides and at length they carried her away. Upon which the Sorlings, this Ship, and the Alborough cut; but before we could get under Sail, the Enemy was out of sight; however, about 3 in the Afternoon
we saw them again, and about 5 they Anchor'd in a fortified Bay, on this side Boulogne. A Swede came from them, and inform'd us, that the Squirrel had engag'd them an Hour, and had repuls'd one who attempted to Board her, but in endeavouring to make her Escape they shot away
her Main-top-mast, and Mizzen, and so took her.
We made them very plain, but having no Pilots
on Board, we did not go into the Bay to them, but stood over again, bringing the Swede with us, and last Night Anchor'd in Dover Road.
The Swede says the said 3 Enemy's Ships were one of 50 and the other 2 of 20 or 30 Guns.
